

Museum of Basel and carrying a dial designed for a style installed on the exterior. In the interior, the reading of the hours was done clockwise.

(Photograph: Basel Historical Museum)

PLATE 9 The celebrated dial of Queens' College. It looks very complicated at first sight but its reading is rather easy owing to a judicious choice of colours for its numerous lines.

(Photograph: Edward Leigh, Cambridge)

